Bachelor's of Social Work Program Mission

The mission of the Mary Baldwin Social Work program is to prepare students for beginning level generalist social work practice with oppressed, at-risk, and vulnerable populations. The program provides a rigorous intellectual base and opportunity for effective skill development and an educational perspective that views human diversity as normal, desirable, and enriching for society. Students are equipped with the knowledge, skills and values appropriate to the social work profession. Students in the program are expected to develop sensitivity to human suffering and injustice. They will develop an understanding of the factors that contribute to discrimination, oppression and vulnerability; and a strong commitment to advocacy, empowerment, social change, and economic justice.

Course Description

This course will provide an overview of the development of social work as a profession with emphasis upon various settings in which social work is practiced. The class material will further examine the emergence of the profession of social work, career opportunities for social workers, competencies, challenges, varying roles and practices required of social workers so that you may determine if this is an appropriate career path for you. With a focus on practical experiences of existing social workers, students will gain an understanding of the dynamics between knowledge, methods and values of the profession.

Expectations of Students

Students are expected to approach this course with openness and an eagerness to learn. Students are expected to communicate questions and/or concerns to their instructor in a timely manner and to be open to feedback.

Students are expected to be responsible for their learning.

1. Personal and Professional Behavior

Students are expected to use class time to foster the use of professional behavior and practice skills used as a social worker. The course offers students the opportunity for self-reflection, experimentation with unfamiliar ways of thinking and acting, the challenge of dependability and timeliness in completing assignments, and appreciation of the mutual accountability between instructor and student. This includes your ability to uphold the requirements of the MBU Honor Code.

2. Ethical Integrity and Honor Code

Mary Baldwin students pledge to uphold the Honor Code. They pledge to refrain from cheating on assignments, papers and tests, to refrain from plagiarism, and always to be honest in their dealings with faculty, staff and other students. To maintain the integrity of the system, students, faculty and staff who witness Honor Code infractions are expected to report them.

Should I become aware of an Honor Code offense in this classroom, I will encourage the student(s) to self-report. If the student(s) does not self-report within 24 hours, I will submit the report myself.

If the Honor Code offense is related to a course assignment, I reserve the right to assess a grade penalty prior to and/or separate from any penalty awarded by MBU Online. The student's acceptance of responsibility or history of infractions will be taken into consideration as well as other information relevant to the student's performance in the course.

Plagiarism, cheating, and all other forms of academic misconduct are not only considered a violation of the MBU honor code, but are also a serious breach of the ethical code of conduct for the social work profession. You, as social work students, are expected to abide by the ethical standards of the profession. The National Association of Social Workers Code of Ethics is available on the NASW website (<https://www.socialworkers.org/About/Ethics/Code-of-Ethics/Code-of-Ethics-English>).

In most instances, the first incidence of such failure to properly cite, quote and/or appropriately include sources in the reference list will require that the assignment be revised making corrections as necessary. Failure to redo the assignment by the due date will result in "0" points for the assignment. An additional incident will result in a referral for investigation of an Honor Code violation.

3. Writing

Good writing skills are crucial for social workers. Being able to organize thoughts in clear sentences, using proper English, is essential in professional communication. All written materials submitted for the class will be evaluated on content as well as sentence construction, grammar, spelling and usage. The use of "person-first language" (e.g., people with disabilities rather than the disabled) in all written and verbal aspects of the class is mandatory. Please adhere to the style guidelines of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (7th edition).

4. Learning Styles

You are responsible for your learning. I am cognizant of our varying learning styles and abilities and will do my best to accommodate this in class. However, if you have a documented learning disability and need additional accommodations in learning please let me know at the beginning of the semester so that I can best meet your needs. Please note that accommodations are not retroactive and documentation must be provided each semester. For additional information see below:

Accessibility Services: Any student with documented accessibility needs who feels they may need academic accommodations while taking this course, should first contact Dr. Carey Usher, Associate Provost (cusher@marybaldwin.edu, 540-887-7064) or Accessibility@marybaldwin.edu.

Special Instructions for Online Courses

Class Feedback: I will begin reviewing all class assignments following the deadline for submission. Additionally, I will be monitoring class activity, checking for questions, etc., at a minimum of twice per week. Please note that I will not be checking the class or providing feedback on questions, assignments, etc., on the weekends and/or holidays for MBU. Plan ahead!

Please note that, if at any point, throughout the course you need to contact me, email is the best option as I will not be working on campus over the summer. I would also be available to meet with you virtually or speak by phone, if that would work. If electronic communication works best for you, posting your question within the course on the discussion page or email are the best options.

Please note that timely participation in the class and completion of the assignments will allow for the most optimal learning experience. Therefore, it is my expectation that assignments, reading and written, will be completed by their due dates. If assignments are late, a 5% penalty will be deducted for each additional day and assignments submitted more than two weeks after their due date will not be accepted. You are strongly encouraged to communicate with me in advance of a due date if you are having difficulty completing an assignment.

No extensions are permitted for quizzes, tests, exams and extra credit.

Class Participation

"Come" to class! I want to know that you are "attending" the class and are ready to learn as well as share your thoughts about social work. You can demonstrate your "attendance" through your participation in discussion board posts, questions, and exchanges with your fellow students. I invite you to bring your ideas, questions, and whole selves to the class each and every week!

Assignments:

- 1) Introduction and Other Discussion Posts 6 points (1 point each)
 - a) Post an introduction of yourself to the class and respond to the post of each one of your classmates.
 - b) Review and complete the corresponding discussion posts for Understanding the Social Work Profession and Mary Baldwin's BSW Program
 - c) Self-Care discussion post
 - d) Adverse Childhood Experiences
 - e) Environmental Privilege assessment
 - f) Disability Etiquette

- 2) Professional Journey Assignment 16 points
This paper should comply with APA format (excluding an abstract) to include a title page and reference list (if applicable), double-spaced, Times New Roman size 12 fonts, 1-inch (normal) margins, and use a running head and page numbers (including the title page). Citations must be used where appropriate within the body of the paper and all references cited at the end of each paper (if applicable). This paper should be two to three full pages in length. No references needed for this paper.

The purpose of this paper is to describe your journey to taking an Introduction to Social Work course. Please include the following:

- 1) Discuss your interest in taking this class and the social work profession. Do you feel 'called' to the profession or believe this course would be helpful to you in an alternate profession? If so, please explain.
- 2) What experience(s) have you had with impoverished, disadvantaged or minority populations? Include volunteer experiences and/or individuals in your community or family who may be or have been impoverished, disadvantaged or who belong to a minority population. Describe these experiences including when and where they occurred. Did this experience(s) lead to your interest in social work?
- 3) If you personally are or have been impoverished, disadvantaged or belong to a minority group, how do you think this experience will impact your interest in social work (i.e., you'll have a greater sense of empathy, there may be potential triggers).
- 4) Are you interested in a particular field within social work? What are your long-term goals? (Competency 2.1.1)

You will be required to submit the appropriate rubric with the assignment with your assessment of the work (circling, highlighting, etc.). Failure to submit the rubric will result in a loss of 1 point from the final assignment score.

- 3) Core Values Assignment 8 points

Complete this assignment on the discussion board following the prompts which will also be outlined here:

The purpose of this assignment is to gain an increased self-awareness as it relates to the social work profession's core values. You will be required to review the NASW Code of Ethics paying particular attention to the Ethical Principles. Please address the following:

- 1) What are the three most important values in your life?
- 2) Are there specific experiences or events in your life that helped shape your value system?
Please describe.
- 3) How do your values compare/contrast with the values in the NASW Code of Ethics? Critically evaluate your values and thoughtfully give examples of areas of compatibility with your values as well as areas of incompatibility.
(Competencies 2.1.1, 2.1.2)

4) Social Work Practitioner Interview Paper 16 points

This paper should comply with APA format (excluding an abstract) to include a title page and reference list, double-spaced, Times New Roman size 12 fonts, 1-inch (normal) margins, and use a running head and page numbers (including the title page). Citations must be used where appropriate within the body of the paper and all references cited at the end of each paper to include personal communication, agency brochures/literature, etc., referenced in the paper. This paper should be four to five full pages in length.

You will be responsible for making an appointment with a BSW, MSW or LCSW practitioner and conduct a 30-45 minute face to face interview. You will be required to email the interviewee's name, agency, and credentials to the instructor for approval prior to conducting the interview. The data collected in this interview will be used to write a paper focusing on the perceptions of this social worker regarding the profession and her/his practice. Relate how this person's perceptions differ or reinforce what has been discussed and read for this class. Also, indicate what new issues were introduced that enhanced your understanding of the social work profession.

The following will help guide the interview and should be covered in the paper:

- 1) The social worker's education (degrees they hold, college(s)/university they attended).
- 2) Name of agency and job title.
- 3) What does a typical "social work day" look like?
- 4) What population does the social worker work with?
- 5) Identify whether the social worker is engaged in prevention, service delivery (helping people cope with a problem that already exists), social change (examining the root of the problem and seeking to eliminate the problem altogether), or a combination.
- 6) What skills are needed to do this job?
- 7) How is the NASW Code of Ethics used on a daily basis?
- 8) What are some of the continuing education opportunities?
- 9) How the social worker deals with various clients in their respective environments?
- 10) How the social worker and/or agency is committed to social and economic justice?
- 11) What new perspectives have you gained?
- 12) What are your thoughts about what you learned?
- 13) How did this experience influence your decision for further pursuance of a BSW degree?
(Competencies 2.1.1-2.1.5, 2.1.9)

You will be required to submit the appropriate rubric with the assignment with your assessment of the work (circling, highlighting, etc.). Failure to submit the rubric will result in a loss of 1 point from the final assignment score.

5) Poverty Simulation and Practice Application Assignment 8 points

Complete the poverty simulation “game” at www.playspent.org, noting your reflections (thoughts and feelings) as you progress through the game.

After completing the exercise, complete a discussion board post addressing the following:

- 1) reflect upon your experiences as a result of the exercise (What were your preconceived ideas about this exercise? Did the actual experience match your preconceived ideas? Explain.)
- 2) identify your residential setting (rural vs. urban) and reflect on how your experience would have been different in the opposite setting
- 3) how would you utilize strengths-based perspective and empowerment to assist a client in poverty
- 4) consider one idea that would help promote more efficient, quality services given your experience of trying to access services and/or resources in this simulation.

6) Reading Quizzes 16 points (4 points each)

There will be four quizzes administered throughout the summer session to review reading content.

7) Mid-Term and Final Exams 15 points each

A mid-term exam covering all material studied the first half of the semester will be administered as indicated on the course schedule. A final comprehensive exam will be administered at the end of the semester according to the course schedule. Please note: there are no extensions for exams; and failure to take the final exam within the designated timeframe will result in a failing grade for the course.
